New York, May [illegible]—The Times [illegible] the action of the Senate [illegible] the supplemental article of the treaty as being in accord with the views of the great mass of the people and particularly with the patriotic [illegible] community

The Tribune pronounces the action of the Senate [illegible] and [illegible] whether the people will accept the amended treaty as a final settlement of the account [illegible] and it says the settlement is between the administrations and not between the two nations

Free Traders' Meeting

New York, May 6.—A call will appear to-morrow for a meeting of Free Traders at Steinway Hall on the 30th inst William Cullen Bryant will preside [illegible] A Wells Edward Atkinson and others will speak The call says that the reference of the tariff reform to Congressional districts by the Cincinnati Convention was an evasion of the issue and absolved Free Traders from any obligation to support the nominees The call looks directly to an organization for the accomplishment of tariff reform in the coming Presidential election

The Strike Subsiding

New York May 26.—The excitement over the eight hour movement is considerably abated but many secret societies will meet on Monday to take measures in order to make the strike a success

The Turf

A race between Longfellow and Harry Lassett 2½ miles for $20 000 on the last day of the Spring meeting at Jerome Park is talked of

Murder and Suicide

CINCINNATI May 26.—Near Troy Ohio yesterday Robert Fuller a farmer called his wife out of the house and shot her with a revolver—fatally it is believed—and then shot himself dead

At Brookville Indiana yesterday the jury found McDonald Cheek guilty of the murder of Harrison his father in law Cheek has been twice convicted and sentenced to death—this being the third trial—and an effort will be made to secure another

Political

NASHVILLE May 2 —A large meeting of German citizens was held here last evening They indorse the Liberal Republican movement and the nomination of Greeley and Brown

Voorhees s speech at Terre Haute last night is universally condemned by the Democrats here

Hailstorm

CHICAGO May 27 —A severe hailstorm in the southern part of the city to day did considerable damage to green houses and windows

The weather is very warm with frequent thunder showers

The Adriatic

New York May 26 —The Adriatic arrived here yesterday on her quick trip instead of at Queenstown as erroneously reported

Billiards

CHICAGO May 26.—Garnier and Rhines last night defeated Deery and Parker at a four handed game of billiards French carrom 500 points for $250 Score 500 to 3 5

WASHINGTON CITY

The Senate on the Supplemental Treaty

WASHINGTON May 26.—Conflicting reports state that the vote of the Senate in executive session on the supplemental article to the Treaty of Washington was 40 to 9 It seems to be reliable that a number of Senators present did not vote The precise language of the article as adopted will not be officially made known till it be ratified It is uncertain if the double injunction of secrecy imposed on Senators shall be respected by all of them it cannot be known through that source although many Senators last night declined to give any hint, and refused to converse on the subject The result of the action of the Senate was known within a half hour after the executive session closed It is believed that Great Britain will assent to a modification of the article as she as well as the United States is anxious for the tribunal of arbitration to proceed without further hindrance The subject will next come before the Senate on the ratification of the article The Senate having concluded its interrogation its members are endeavoring to prevent copies of the secret correspondence and the proposed article from reaching outside parties It may now prosecute the investigation concerning the publication of the document with a view to emphatic action on the premises

Public Works

The Sundry Civil Expenses Appropriation bill contains a proviso prohibiting the payment of Commissioners on any labor or material furnished and providing that all work on public buildings shall be done under contracts by the lowest bidders under bonds after advertising The latter provision only applies to public buildings under the Treasury Department

WEST INDIES

HAVANA May 26.—The ex-insurgent General Barnab Verona is a passenger by the City of Mexico on the way to New York The captain of the City of Mexico refused to accede to the request of the authorities to surrender him He embarked at Vera Cruz

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

From Paris.

PARIS May 2 .—The generals who received Napoleon s recent letter assuming the responsibility of the surrender of Sedan sent it to Thiers

Spanish Insurgents Pardoned

MADRID May 26 —Serrano has proclaimed a full pardon to all insurgents voluntarily surrendering A large number at Biscay have availed themselves of this clemency

Position of Voorhees

Congressman Voorhees of Indiana has written the following letter to Captain J. L. Griggs of Terre Haute The letter is said to accord with the views of the Indiana Democracy:

WASHINGTON D C May 17th

DEAR CAPTAIN Your favor is at hand The idea that I would under any circumstances support Grant seems too ridiculous for serious contradiction Statements to this effect are not al [illegible] absurdly false The reason why I will not support Greeley is that he is no better than Grant in any respect and in some of [illegible] this was my meaning when speaking in the House No honest intelligent Democrat can support either Grant or Greeley without at all doing his principles Fire and water can mingle more easily [illegible] than I could become an ally of either of them I shall stand by my sincere and abiding principles If I did otherwise I would be a dishonest [illegible] [illegible] If this is [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] party will [illegible] at Baltimore on the [illegible] candidates [illegible] I shall [illegible] result [illegible] States [illegible] judge between [illegible] his party and his country

A man from Detroit who left his home a year ago has been traveling about under the impression that he was somebody else but retaining at the same time a peculiar interest in his real self He would write home to his wife occasionally inquiring after her husband being especially anxious to learn whether he had got over his crazy spell yet He was traced from place to place for nearly a year before his friends could come up with him

Greeley s Nomination of President Grant

From the Cincinnati Gazette]

A number of letters of which the following is a specimen have been received at this office

COVINGTON Ky May 9

To the Editor of the Cincinnati Gazette

It is stated that Horace Greeley nominated President Grant for a second term Please oblige the undersigned and many others by giving the time place and exact language used and reference as to where the same may be found so that even conscientious one term Republicans and Democrats themselves may be convinced that Mr Greeley did favor the re election of Gen Grant

Very respectfully N

The information this writer asks for we publish in another column Other correspondents have written us on the same interesting topic will find the knowledge they desire in the same place To them as well as to the public we desire to say simply this: That speech from which we quote was made in January 1871 when General Grant had been in office [illegible] ten months At that time Mr Horace Greeley's friends were in office in New York A little later Tom Murphy who was [illegible] was appointed Collector [illegible] appeared from the sworn evidence taken in New York before the Senate Investigating Committee [illegible] Mr H A Cleveland, brother in law of Horace Greeley and one of the editors of the New York Tribune and asked for the Central Order [illegible] afterward given to Leet and Stocking This request Collector Murphy refused From that time forth Mr Horace Greeley became the bitter intense opponent of President Grant From that time to Mr Horace Greeley became the warm advocate of the one term principle a principle which on the [illegible] of January 1871 he evidently did not know had an existence

We make no comments on this bit of history We leave it to Mr Greeley and his friends to explain how it happened that Greeley s advocacy of the one term business and his opposition to Grant followed so swiftly on the heels of his disappointment in procuring his friends fat offices To honest people the facts can bear only one interpretation

Harper s Weekly on Greeley

If there is one quality which is indispensable in a President it is sound judgment If there is one public man who is totally destitute of it it is Horace Greeley A certain kindly feeling with which he is regarded will not blind the country to his natural unfitness for the office to which he has been nominated Mr Greeley himself concedes the personal rectitude of Gen Grant It is the allegation of the best men who went to Cincinnati not that the President is dishonest but that he is influenced by unworthy counselors They would have a man whose will is adamant It is not enough for them that his purpose is pure But is there a human being competent to judge who supposes that General Grant is easily moulded by his associates and that Mr Greeley would not be wax in the hands of flatterers? To intrust the national government to his direction would be to abandon the ship of State to be blown about by every whimsical gust The present Administration may be justly amenable to censure in some points as indeed, every administration must be But it is sincerely [illegible] that the patriotic intelligence of this country could substitute Horace Greeley for General Grant

The Canal and Locks

The following paragraphs are from an article in the [illegible] the Republican paper of Yamhill

Now what is this corporation that it should talk of monopolies and should hire speakers and writers to denounce all other enterprises? It is the closest monopoly in the State An opposition railroad can be built, and will be whenever it is necessary Wagon roads can be used just the same as ever and all other means of transportation remain as formerly except the river There is but the one no opposition can be constructed Put that into the hands of Teal and Miller and they enjoy one of the worst monopolies ever granted to a corporation They have it already Not a pound of freight will pass down the river after the works are done but must pay to these self sacrificing politicians a heavy tariff

These works are paid for by the people. The very fact that others would have taken their contract at $75,000 less than this corporation gets is enough to show that they are already overpaid, or would be if the funds had been employed legitimately. But their extra expenses are enormous. The passage of the bill caused the distribution of a good many shares of stock among politicians. Their election contests, [illegible] papers' subsidies and corruption funds are a heavy drain even on so rich a corporation. Hence they want further legislation They need $150 000 or $200,000 more, and they want an extension of time to complete the work, and their agents are already preparing the Democratic mind for a call for more money In their Convention in this county a resolution was adopted in favor of giving this corporation more money, and of legislating for them more power to grind the people of the Wallamet Valley out of their hard earnings

Beecher on the Cincinnati Convention

We make the following extracts from an editorial in the Christian Union (Henry Ward Beecher s paper) on the Cincinnati Convention

There were gathered in Cincinnati, probably as many men of distinguished excellence and of political and economic wisdom, as ever met together on this continent There can be no doubt of the sincerity of their purpose, and of their high moral aim But these were precisely the men that did not make themselves felt The politicians had used them to gather an imposing Convention, and then they were allowed no more influence in it than if they had been pigmies These wise men were mere bubbles that rose, swelled, the iridescent hues of imaginary virtue, burst and passed away! The politicians ruled The real old, shrewd wire-pulling, conniving politicians trained in a hundred campaigns, threw their net, their fine and silken net, and swept the whole swarm of light fish that had come there to lay their spawn for unborn generations, and who found themselves bought and sold in the market.

The platform is but a shorter catechism to the old Republican confession of faith. The only two points of difference—universal amnesty and civil service reform though not in earlier platforms, have been General Grant s special endeavors, and have been defeated by the indifference or coolness of some of the very men who rejoiced in this Convention

* * * * *

Thither to Cincinnati went the Godkins, the Welles, the Bowles the Atkinsons, to found a party for free &c. They have come home again with Horace Greeley on their banners as the candidate for the Presidency, and a platform that ignores the whole question of tariff and free trade

This was the Convention that was to get rid of politicians' rule to put public affairs upon a higher level—to purge out all chicanery, and to lead on the nation to a higher style of administration.

We need not express our high consideration of Mr Greeley, personally, nor deny that, as belonging to the profession of journalists, we take a degree of pleasure in having one confessedly at the head of the profession selected for the highest national honor.

As editor of the Tribune we thoroughly believe in Mr Greeley, and if these United States were but a thirty-seven paged Tribune to be edited we should certainly vote the Greeley ticket But, as commanding an army and conducting a Government have been found very different operations, so it may be presumed that a man may be a glorious editor without being a wise and skillful administrator

The saloon keepers of La Crosse, Wisconsin, are a considerate set of beings They have formed an "Association of Saloons," which association the other day notified "all ladies who do not wish drinks sold to their husbands, sons or brothers, to hand in their names to the Chief of Police, and he will notify saloons, where their requests will be adhered to Now, then, the gentle ones, have the matter in their own hands, let's see them ruin the liquor business in La Crosse.

Judge by Results

[illegible] and in nothing [illegible] always [illegible] opp[illegible] or [illegible] State [illegible] persistently [illegible] strangle [illegible] sources of the [illegible] unless [illegible] the whole Republican [illegible] contributing most powerfully to build up our State and country to commercial greatness. Just before [illegible] election [illegible] was made about the Humboldt railroad [illegible] has now made about the locks at Oregon City. But the whole thing was as totally without foundation as is the present outcry about the locks. It was clap-trap for use just for an election.

Had the policy which the Democratic party now advocates prevailed heretofore we should now have no railroads and no great improvements in our State. Everything would be torpid and dormant. Capital would not have sought our State for investment, and business would not for years have been stimulated to its present activity.

If the people are interested in the development of the industrial and commercial resources of the State to what party should they look for it? To the party whose record has been one of long continued and traditional opposition to the policy of public aid for internal improvements, or to the party which has always advocated a generous and national policy whereby such enterprises have been encouraged and promoted? The prodigious growth and progress of the Great West during the last twelve years have been owing mainly to the far sighted policy of the Republican party in stimulating and assisting [illegible] enterprises and industries. Parties are to be judged by their tendencies and achievements. Why say that the Republican party is the enemy of industrial and commercial progress when the fact is patent that it is mainly to the Republican party that the country owes its present industrial development and commercial prosperity.

No Republican policy has proved in the past to be beneficial and progressive in the highest degree. It has fettered no industry but has enfranchised them all. Under Republican policy labor and capital have combined for their grandest achievements. The policy has been steadily opposed by the Democratic party, yet Republicans have adhered to it. Behold what it has wrought. It has given us a track for commerce across the continent and is preparing others. It has threaded the country with railways. It has stimulated manufactures, and has quickened every form of productive industry. And now for a party which has steadfastly opposed the policy which has produced these results to turn about and denounce the party whose policy has produced them as an enemy to the true development and prosperity of the country, is the sublimity of impudence and falsehood.

Drifting toward Greeley

It begins to look much more like Greeley would receive the Democratic nomination than it did a few weeks since. Many of the journals of the party have been industriously preparing the party mind for it, and the Democratic Conventions of several States have pronounced for the Greeley programme. In the New England States, where Democracy is at a very low ebb, there is an evident disposition to send Greeley delegates to Baltimore. The New York delegation is uninstructed, but is understood to be for Greeley. The Southern delegations are expected to be for Greeley en masse. They will constitute a positive force in Convention which it will be difficult to form any combination to beat. In the great Middle States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, etc., Greeley's strength seems to be less, and from those States he will probably meet much opposition in the Convention. The Pacific States will pretty certainly be against him, but their delegations will be so small that they will amount to little in shaping the result.

Oregon Democracy cannot endure Greeley. If he is forced on the party as its candidate there will be a plentiful lack of spirit and enthusiasm in the campaign in this State. We said the other day that the piebald ticket in nomination in Multnomah county was put forth as an experiment toward bringing the Democracy up to the support of Greeley. The Police Commissioner who drew up the ticket and first sent it to O P Mason and forty seven others to be endorsed, and afterwards put it through the County Democratic Convention had this thing in view. It was his strategy. The ticket was considered and adopted by him and his editor some time before O P Mason and forty seven others were permitted to see it. But for the nomination of Greeley at Cincinnati and for this essay toward working the Democracy of Multnomah county up to the support of Greeley, the Dolly Varden ticket here would not have an existence. Many Democrats know this and consider it treachery toward their party. Hence their revolt from ring dictation. They don't Greeleyize.

The New York World puts forth an article entitled "Shall the Democratic Party Commit Political Suicide?" The object of the article is to show that an attempt by that party to make Horace Greeley its candidate would be disastrous, would be in fact self destruction. The World asks "What would become of the Republican party if it should run Alexander H. Stephens or Robert Toombs as its candidate for President?" Mr Greeley as a Democratic candidate is not a whit less self stultifying. The World adds that Mr Greeley rejects and asperses the whole Democratic philosophy, and that if the Democratic party indorses him it will commit suicide.

The notorious French arms investigation has at last met its [illegible]. Both the majority and the minority reports fully exonerate all officers of the Government from corruption, and from intended or actual infraction of the [illegible] was sprung on the country [illegible] and goes up in mere smoke.

The Boston Journal says [illegible] purpose of the Democracy in fomenting the Cincinnati movement has been to divide the Republican party. It would be queer if the scheme should return like a boomerang to work a Democratic division. And yet the [illegible] not improbable.

The Electoral Vote

[illegible] we give a table showing the electoral vote of each State under the new apportionment and also a statement of the [illegible] each State at the general election [illegible] which has [illegible]

[illegible]

We do [illegible] what number of electoral votes one candidate or another will get. Every intelligent reader can balance the probabilities for himself.

A careful review of the one hundred and forty odd German papers published in the United States shows that only two weeklies and four out of the fifty dailies have thus far given their adhesion to the Cincinnati ticket. A correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch writes that in an interview with Senator Schurz the Senator told him that Greeley could not carry the German vote of Missouri. It is very evident that Greeley will fail to get any considerable German support. That people don't like his cranky notions.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Baltimore has been the sepulchre of political parties in this country. Both the Whig and Democratic parties held in that city the Convention which heralded their defeat and extinction.

The President has appointed a commission of three distinguished men—Brevet Major General Andrew A Humphreys of the United States Army, Prof Benjamin Pierce of Massachusetts, and Capt Daniel Ammen of the United States Navy—a commission to investigate and report upon the practicability and cost of an inter oceanic ship canal across the American Isthmus.

Mr Greeley's fame rests upon his destructive qualities. He exults in his prowess as a woodchopper and was placed in nomination to split the Republican party. Unfortunately for those who hoped advantage from his skill with the axe, both they and he are near sighted, and it now turns out that the old man is driving his wedge into the Democratic party instead of that which supports General Grant.

A J doesn't like the nomination of H G. A letter from Washington county, upper East Tennessee, April 29th, says: "I saw ex President Johnson in Greenville and had an interesting conversation with him on the political situation, but I have neither time nor space to report his views at length. He declines the race for Congress in this district and emphatically condemns the proposition for the Democratic party to support the Cincinnati Republican Convention."

The report of the Central Pacific Railroad for the year 1871 shows: Capital stock $100 000 000; amount subscribed [illegible] 000; actual sum paid in [illegible] 83 100. The Company has 175 locomotive engines, 100 passenger cars, 41 baggage cars, 10 mail and express cars, and 2 414 freight cars.

Forest Grove

FOREST GROVE, Oregon, May 27 1872.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

It is so seldom I see anything in the papers from Forest Grove that I venture to offer you a few words.

On last Sabbath evening a Sunday School concert came off at the M E Church under the management of Rev J Hoberg, and a most entertaining affair it was and very creditable to all concerned. The exercises consisted first of an address by Mr John R Walker of this place. Mr Walker is a good speaker and he went after the helps and hindrances of a Sabbath School in a forcible manner. Mr Walker occupied about ten minutes, then followed alternately singing and speaking for about forty five minutes. The speaking was done by the little folks, girls and boys from four or five years of age to little misses [illegible] in their teens. It would be entirely out of place to particularize, but [illegible] the [illegible] The [illegible] by four little girls. The [illegible] says John Fe[illegible], one of the Benton county Democratic candidates for the Legislature, finds that he is in the wrong pew. He remarked the other day that politics was not his forte, and that he would give $100 [illegible] in the canvass very cheerfully provided they would let him out.

The following are the appointed officers of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows: W [illegible] J F Backenstos of Albany No [illegible]; W [illegible] M F M Bamford of Blue Mountain No 11; W [illegible] William M H[illegible] of Columbia No [illegible]; W [illegible] J G Wright of Chemeketa No 1; W [illegible] H John Lost[illegible] of Occidental No [illegible].

The Mercury says wheat is selling at the Salem Mills at 65 cents per bushel. A large amount is coming down the river by the rural [illegible] being drawn from the country with [illegible] disposing of their wheat [illegible] cents now who last fall refused $1 10 with the expectation of receiving a higher price.

The [illegible] says [illegible] Messrs [illegible] of Rye Valley had their sluice boxes robbed [illegible] If this thing of robbing sluice boxes cannot be stopped in any other way it may become necessary for Judge Lynch to hold court occasionally.

A fatal accident happened to the wife of Mr Oliver, living on the Meadows in Umatilla county, one day last week. Mr Oliver was away from home and had left a horse picketed near the house. In the evening his wife took the horse to the well for the purpose of watering, and it is supposed the horse became frighted, and entangling her in the rope ran the distance of three-fourths of a mile tearing off all her clothes and breaking her arms and neck. When found by a neighbor the next morning she could not be identified until upon going to the house where her three little children were found asleep on the bed with their clothes on, having been alone all night.

THE TERRITORIES

Crops in the Boise Valley are coming on finely since the warm weather began.

The soldiers stationed at Fort Boise have made a fine garden this spring which they will not be permitted to enjoy as they are ordered to the barren wastes of Arizona.

John B [illegible], one of the oldest citizens of Idaho, died at Pierce City a few days ago at the age of 66. He came to the coast in 18[illegible] and had been Auditor and Recorder of Shoshone county nine years.

The Democrats of Ada county, Idaho Territory, have made the following nominations: For Territorial Council, Dr J P Wright; for [illegible] Assembly, C [illegible]; [illegible] M Jeffreys, J [illegible]; County Commissioners, A Ross, G W Hun[illegible], William [illegible]; Probate Judge, Roll Riblace; Sheriff, N I Jenkins; Treasurer, Fred Dargie; Auditor and Recorder, N M Hanthorn.

We judge that Howard, the ex Democratic Sheriff of [illegible] county and the present candidate of the [illegible] party for [illegible] is the individual referred to in the following paragraph from a Boise City, Idaho, exchange:

A high official from one of the eastern counties of Oregon arrived at Boise City a number of weeks ago and left by the overland stage East. Since then letters have been received making inquiries as to his whereabouts, and being informed of his manner of departure they write back that the [illegible] individual has made a d—[illegible]. We fear that his [illegible] will show up a little matter of deficiency.

A jolly and rollicking young fellow named T [illegible] and of course [illegible] eloped from [illegible] with the wife of Shelton [illegible] in money.

TUESDAY MORNING MAY [illegible] 187[illegible]

OF MANNERS —A[illegible] who have [illegible] the theater [illegible] have frequent[illegible] want of strict decorum [illegible] We speak [illegible] a [illegible] in the pit [illegible] the building [illegible] generally [illegible] fail to take more license [illegible] than those of [illegible] limits which should not be [illegible] These remarks are intended [illegible] men The want of a [illegible] good manners has been often a subject of remark among theater goers and has [illegible] There are a class of boys who have [illegible] contempt for good breeding and who [illegible] to display their stock of [illegible] manners on all occasions The shouting booing [illegible] indulged in at such public gatherings as applause is disgusting in the extreme and such as ladies and gentlemen appreciate applause [illegible] public efforts, all such applause is repugnant and offensive to a truly refined mind and cultivated taste We therefore hope that we will have no more such demonstrations at public gatherings other than political meetings from boys who ought to know and behave better or be kept at home till they learn what constitutes good behavior

THE REAL OBJECT —Inasmuch as we have the question frequently propounded What is the real object of the organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic and also to show that it is not "revolutionary in its tendencies as many erroneously suppose we will state as near as possible its true object The principles and objects of the G A R are to preserve the kind and fraternal feelings which bind together the soldiers sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion to assist such former comrades as need help and protection and to extend needful aid to the widows and orphans of those who have fallen to discountenance whatever tends to weaken loyalty or in any manner impairs the efficacy and permanency of our free institutions, and to encourage the spread of universal liberty equal rights and justice to all mankind

LADIES' PRIZES —The following are the prizes [illegible] the fleetest young ladies at the races on [illegible] at Canyon Garden The fair contestants had 150 yards to run and several handsome prizes [illegible] for The successful ones were [illegible] Miss Pauline Landenberger who took a lady's work box, presented by Captain W[illegible] and Julia Weaver, a fur cape presented by Mr DuBois The third prize had to be run for a second time—Miss Rosa Durkheimer and Miss Sarah Lyons both [illegible] at the same time Miss D secured [illegible] It was a box of perfumery presented by Mr [illegible] Miss L received a purse

JURY LIST —The following jurors were returned by U S Marshal Young yesterday to serve in the case of U S vs M S Hart now on trial in the District Court Jas T Hembree Hall Johnson Jno E Hubbard, B E Lippincott, Geo Humphrey C D Burkhart Eli Carter M L Caruthers R B Cochran M G Hadley Jno Kelley, E Blackley B R Biddle J W Miller J A Wrenn T G Mulkey Wm Sy[illegible] Tilman Ford R A Riggs Lewis John[illegible], Geo Tillotson S Ground J S Churchill F H Wakefield

STARTED ON FOOT —Dr Bourne who has delivered two lectures in this city started for Sacramento, California yesterday morning He intends to complete the entire distance on foot and lecture at the various towns through which he will pass He carried over forty pounds of provisions and clothing on his shoulders The Doctor is purely a vegetarian in his diet and his pilgrimage on foot is to demonstrate the fact that meat is not necessary to maintain physical endurance

THE TURNERS' BALL —The ball given by the Turners last night was a grand success in every particular The largest and one of the most re[illegible] table crowds ever assembled on an occasion of the kind in this city was present, and though the Rink was crowded with dancers and spectators the utmost good order and harmony prevailed Every one seemed to enjoy the exercises remarkably well, and at a late hour hundreds of merry feet were flying to the harmony of sweet sounds

CHANGED.—Yesterday in the United States District Court, after the jury had been sworn in his Venir, Judge Deady, announced that they would not be allowed to separate nor communicate with any person until their verdict had been [illegible] The Marshal was ordered to secure rooms for them, and a Deputy Marshal [illegible] to take charge of the rooms, and they will eat and sleep under his supervision

ON HIS RETURN —In regard to an old and well known citizen of Portland, in days that are remote," the Bedrock Democrat says Information has been received here to the effect that W C Bell, our townsman now in London Canada will start for home shortly with a number of fine blooded horses cattle, sheep hogs poultry, dogs and other animals "

DRILL —A drill was held on Sunday afternoon by the members of the Portland Light Battery A meeting was also held last evening at the Armory to make further arrangements towards perfecting a more permanent organization of the company and to receive the necessary proficiency and discipline and getting into good working order

MACHINERY —Some of the heavy machinery formerly used in Mill No 4 was yesterday hauled down to the new mill in process of construction below the west side depot The machinery now used in the mill near the ferry landing will soon be removed to the lower building which when entirely completed will be among the largest mills on this coast

FOR SITKA —The steamer California which went to San Francisco several weeks ago to undergo some repairs will we learn sail from that place on Monday next, for Sitka direct [illegible] She will touch at this port on her way up A company of U S troops will be on board They will be stationed at Sitka to relieve the troops already at that post

REDUCED FARE —All delegates to the Sunday School Convention at Albany on the 29th inst presenting a certificate of their election to the agents at the different depots along the line of the O & C R R will have tickets sold them for the round trip at reduced rates

IDAHO —The steamer is due from Victoria and way ports but as we go to press she had not yet [illegible] an appearance It is probable that she will be placed on the lower route and that the steamer California will assume the old route between this city and Victoria

TO OFFICIATE —Owing to the absence of Rev T L Eliot, who has been announced to officiate as Chaplain on Decoration Day at the Court House Rev Mr Kimball will act on that occasion in his capacity

PRODUCE —The following quantities of freight were brought down on the train yesterday evening 2 500 pounds mdse 175 hides 1 bundle of dressed skins 160 pounds eggs 3 cars flour 9,272 pounds paper

THE USUAL RUNAWAY —We have to record the usual runaway yesterday A horse attached to an express wagon took fright and ran off No damage done to horse or wagon and no one hurt

A MEETING —A meeting will be held this evening to commence at [illegible] o clock by the members of the Portland Light Battery Business of importance will be transacted

SOME TIME —The case of M S Hart charged with fraud bids fair to continue for several days yet. Yesterday several important witnesses were examined

FOR HALSEY —The engine and boiler [illegible] a portable steam sawmill was shipped to [illegible] M Howard of Halsey

RISING —The Columbia river rose [illegible] inches at Wallula on Sunday night and is still rising rapidly on the rise

AN ATTRACTIVE PLACE is the [illegible] House [illegible] & Roberts corner of First and Washington streets [illegible] gentlemen and youths The can be found [illegible] variety Furnishing Goods, Clothing for Summer wear and other articles The finest Cloths that can be had are kept on the counters which the firm [illegible] act[illegible] to the latest styles and guarantee correct fit You buy Clothing as well as all other goods they offer at the very lowest figures All who desire anything in the above should make a note of these facts

THE DOLLY VARDEN MEETING

The speaking last night at Otto Treuer's saloon by the Dolly Vardenites was a most ridiculous affair There was a small crowd present and a majority of those who were there were Republicans and but very little interest seemed to be taken by more than a half dozen The first speaker was J D Shattuck who made [illegible] the speech that he delivered at the [illegible] Hall [illegible] He began by spreading himself [illegible] the Republicans [illegible] party had been [illegible]

business Judge [illegible] would [illegible] have Mr Holladay [illegible] he would not [illegible] He [illegible] but failed to [illegible] that the Railroad Company was [illegible] paying taxes That Company had disputed about their taxes and [illegible] have them reduced That they had demanded a subsidy of $[illegible] of this city two years ago though he didn't say that the subsidy [illegible] only [illegible] platted an amendment [illegible] charter allowing the people to vote [illegible] the question of a subsidy He said [illegible] Mr Holladay's paid Attorneys and a paid agent of [illegible] were on the Republican ticket [illegible] that Mr Ca[illegible] connected with Mr Holladay in any way whatever either as his Attorney [illegible] depended upon the best authority and Judge Shattuck did not and will not attempt to sustain his assertion by a single syllable of proof As to other gentlemen alluded to we see no more strength in the Judge's argument than there would be in an argument against Judge Shattuck because he happens to be the paid attorney of some other man or company though if his law is no better than his logic he would soon be the attorney of no one He said considerable about the swamp land bill and that Congress had given 300 000 acres of land [illegible] to a certain military road company and others and hardly left any swamp land though we see by one of our Democratic exchanges that J D Shattuck got away with [illegible] acres He doubted the meaning of the Constitution when it attempted to divert the grant of 500 000 acres to educational purposes and said it was a question about which honest lawyers might honestly differ as to whether it had ever been so diverted

Judge Shattuck was followed by Mr Cronin who was surprised to find [illegible] making anything but a Democratic speech His remarks were of the same purport as those of his predecessor about Ben Holladay and monopolists He made one remark which doubtless was a stunner to every one who heard it and that was that it did not cost anything to build the railroads in Oregon Another assertion that the company charged a dollar and a half for taking a trunk across the river at this place was equally false as all a man who buys his ticket as a passenger has to do is to leave his baggage at the warehouse on this side and it is taken to the ferryboat and across the river without any extra charge whatever

After Cronin came little O P Mason [illegible] and after him Goos Newby who turned and charged about monopolies and Ben Holladay He said he knew all about the inside workings of railroad companies in Oregon and California and knew what had been done and said by the great railroad men and thought they were all corrupt and were trying to corrupt the people Newby spoke a good while—in fact killed more time than any of the others but said very little that had any point

Bob Ladd took the stand after Newby got through but he declined to make a speech as he thought the Bulletin reporter was not present He wanted to talk to that individual

When Mr Ladd left the rostrum loud calls were made for Mr Carroll who after much confusion among the crowd took the stand and proceeded to throw a few hot shot into the Dolly Varden camp which greatly incensed some of the crowd among whom was Casey Charley and Mr William P O'Reilly, so the former who stood directly behind Mr Carroll pushed him off the stand and O'Reilly mounted it and made a speech and tried to raise three cheers for the People's Ticket so called but they were sickly and weak and the meeting petered out

TURNERS AT THE RINK

The Turners formed yesterday afternoon at their hall and after marching through the principal streets entered at the Rink where the exercises for the evening were to be held A large [illegible]

[illegible]

The next [illegible] class of [illegible] the fine [illegible] exercises [illegible] was the arena the small [illegible] bar and parallel bar although embracing more difficult [illegible] The following gentlemen [illegible] W C Bl[illegible] R Q[illegible] G N[illegible] H Lamberson R Schneer [illegible] Frank [illegible] [illegible] We [illegible] credit upon professionals [illegible] the names of Mo[illegible] Castendeck Hill Lamberson Schneer and several others

These exercises lasted over an hour The audience was then dismissed for an hour At 9 o'clock the grand entertainment commenced and consisted of the following exercises

Part I—Overture Orchestra Tableaus two Pyramid Turners Troleun Quartette Tyrolese Acrobatic exercises Miller and Schmeer Groupings Turners

Part 2—Overture Orchestra Davenport Cabinet Car[illegible]

Part 3—Overture Orchestra [illegible] Trapeze, Miller and Schmeer Solo [illegible] Song, Singers of the Turn Vereins Niagara Leap Miller Castendeck

The last act the Niagara Leap was the most thrillingly interesting portion of the programme This we believe is the first time this feat has ever been attempted by amateurs on this coast At the conclusion of the entertainment the evening closed with a ball which was very largely attended From the commencement to ending everything was a complete success and all were well satisfied with the management of the occasion The Turners have just reason to feel proud of the result of their labors

THE BURIAL OF BUCK FANSHAW

A [illegible] FUNERAL [illegible] NEVADA

[illegible]

There was a grand time over Buck Fanshaw when he died. He was a representative citizen. He had "killed his man"—not in his own quarrel, it is true, but in defence of a stranger beset by numbers. He had kept a [illegible] saloon. He had been the proprietor of a dashing helpmeet, whom he could have discarded without the formality of a divorce. He had held a high position in the Fire Department, and been a very Warwick in politics. When he died there was a great lamentation throughout the town, but especially in the vast bottom stratum of society.

On the inquest it was shown that Buck Fanshaw, in the delirium of a wasting typhoid fever, had taken arsenic, shot himself through the body, cut his throat, and jumped out of a four story window and broken his neck; and after due deliberation the jury, sad and tearful, but with intelligence unblinded by its sorrow, brought in a verdict of death "by the visitation of God." What could the world do without juries?

Prodigious preparations were made for the funeral. All the vehicles in town were hired, and all the saloons were put in mourning, all the municipal and fire company flags were hung at half mast, and all the firemen ordered to muster in uniform and bring their machines duly draped in black.

Regretful resolutions were passed and various committees were appointed, among others, a committee of one was appointed to call on a minister—a fragile, gentle, spiritual new fledgling from an Eastern theological seminary, and as yet unacquainted with the ways of the mines. The committee-man, "Scotty" Briggs, made his visit.

Being admitted to his presence, he sat down before the clergyman, placed his fire-hat on an unfinished manuscript sermon under the minister's nose, took from it a red silk handkerchief, wiped his brow and heaved a sigh of dismal impressiveness explanatory of his business. He choked and even shed tears, but with an effort he mastered his voice and said, in lugubrious tones:

"Are you the duck that runs the Gospel mill next door?"

"Am I the—pardon me, I believe I do not understand?"

With another sigh and a half sob Scotty rejoined:

"Why, you see, we are in a bit of trouble, and the boys thought may be you'd give us a lift, if we'd tackle you; that is, if I've got the right of it and you are the head clerk of the doxology works next door."

"I am the shepherd in charge of the flock whose fold is next door."

"The which?"

"The spiritual adviser of the little company of believers whose sanctuary adjoins these premises."

Scotty scratched his head, reflected a moment, and then said:

"You rather hold over me, pard. I reckon I can't call that hand. Ante and pass the buck."

"How? I beg your pardon. What did I understand you to say?"

"Well, you've rather got the bulge on me. Or may be we've both got the bulge, somehow. You don't smoke me and I don't smoke you. You see, one of the boys has passed in his checks, and we want to give him a good send-off, and so the thing I'm on now is to rout out somebody to jerk out a little chin music for us, and waltz him through handsome."

"My friend, I seem to grow more and more bewildered. Your observations are wholly incomprehensible to me. Cannot you simplify them some way? At first I thought perhaps I understood you, but now I grope. Would it not expedite matters if you restricted yourself to categorical statements of fact unincumbered with obstructing accumulations of metaphor and allegory?"

Another pause, and more reflection. Then Scotty said:

"I'll have to pass, I judge."

"How?"

"You've raised me out, pard."

"I still fail to catch your meaning."

"Why, that last lead of yourn is too many for me—that's the idea, I can't neither trump nor follow suit."

The clergyman sank back in his chair perplexed. Scotty leaned his head on his hand, and gave himself up to reflection. Presently his face came up, sorrowful and confident.

"I've got it now, so's you can savy," said he. "What we want is a gospel sharp. See?"

"A what!"

"Oh! Why did you not say so before? I am a clergyman—a parson."

"Now you talk! You see my blind, and straddle it like a man. Put it there!" extending a brawny paw, which closed over the minister's small hand and gave it a shake indicative of fraternal sympathy and fervent gratification.

"Now we're all right, pard. Let's start fresh. Don't you mind me snuffling a little, becuz we're in a power of troub. You see one of the boys has gone up the flume"—

"Gone where?"

"Up the flume—throw'd up the sponge, you know."

"Thrown up the sponge?"

"Yes—kicked the bucket—"

"Ah—has departed to that mysterious country from whose bourne no traveler returns."

Return? Well, I reckon not. Why, pard, he's dead."

"Yes, I understand."

"Oh, you do? Well, I thought maybe you might be getting tangled once more. Yes, you see he's dead again"—

"Again! Why, has he ever been dead before?"

"Dead before? No. Do you reckon a man has got as many lives as a cat? But you bet, he's awful dead now, poor old boy, and I wish I'd never seen this day. I don't know no better friend than Buck Fanshaw. I know'd him by the back, and when I know a man like him I freeze to him—you hear me. Take him all around, pard, there never was a bullier man in the mines. No man ever knowed Buck Fanshaw to go back on a friend. But it's all up, you know; it's all up. It ain't no use. They've scooped him!"

"Scooped him?"

"Yes—death has. Well, well, well, we've got to give him up. Yes, indeed. It's a kind of hard world, after all, aint it? But, pard, he was a rustler. You ought to see him get started once. He was a bully boy with a glass eye! Just spit in his face and give him room according to his strength, and it was just beautiful to see him peel and go in. He was the worst son of a thief that ever draw'd breath. Pard, he was on it. He was on it bigger than an Injun!"

"On it? On what?"

"On the shoot. On the shoulder. On the fight. Understand? He didn't give a continental—for any-body. Beg your pardon, friend, for coming so near saying a cuss-word—but you see I'm on an awful strain in this palaver, on account of having to cram down and draw everything so mild. But we've got to give him up. There ain't any getting around that, I don't reckon. Now, if we can't get you to help plant him—"

"Preach the funeral discourse? Assist at the obsequies?"

"Obs'quies is good. Yes. That's it, that's our little game. We are going to get up the thing regardless, you know. He was always nifty himself, and so you bet you his funeral ain't going to be no slouch; solid silver door plate on his coffin, six plumes on the hearse, and a nigger on the box with a biled shirt and a plug hat—how's that for high? And we'll take care of you, pard. We'll fix you all right. There will be a kerridge for you; and whatever you want you just 'scape out and we'll tend to it. We've got a shebang fixed up for you to stand behind in No. 1's house, and don't you be afraid. Just go in and toot your horn, if you don't sell a clam. Put Buck through as bully as you can, pard, for anybody that know'd him will tell you that he was one of the whitest men that was ever in the mines. You can't draw it too strong. He never could stand it to see things going wrong. He's done more to make this town peaceable than any man in it. I've seen him lick four Greasers in eleven minutes, myself. If a thing wanted regulating, he warn't a man to go browsing around after somebody to do it, but he would prance in and regulate it himself. He warn't a Catholic. But it didn't make no difference about that when it came down to what a man's rights was—and so, when some roughs jumped the Catholic bone yard and started in to stake out town lots in it, he went for 'em! And he cleaned 'em, too! I was there and seen it myself."

That was very well, indeed—at least the impulse was—whether the act was strictly defensible or not. Had deceased any religious convictions? That is to say, did he feel a dependence upon, or acknowledge allegiance to a higher power?

More reflection.

"I reckon you've stumped me again, pard. Could you say it over once more and say it slow?"

"Well, to simplify it somewhat, was he, or rather had he ever been connected with any organization sequestered from secular concerns and devoted to self-sacrifice in the interests of morality?"

"All down but nine—set 'em up on the other alley, pard."

"What did I understand you to say?"

"Why, you're most too many for me, you know. When you get in with your left, I hunt grass every time. Every time you draw you fill, but I don't seem to have any luck. Let's have a new deal."

"How? Begin again?"

"That's it."

"Very well. Was he a good man, and—"

"There, I see that; don't put up another chip till I look at my hand. A good man, says you? Pard, it ain't no name for it. He was the best man that ever—pard, you would have doted on that man. He could lam any galoot of his inches in America. It was him that put down the riot last election before it got a start; and everybody said that he was the only man that could have done it. He waltzed in with a trumpet in one hand and a spanner in the other, sent fourteen men home on a shutter in less than three minutes. He had that riot all broke up and prevented nice before anybody ever got a chance to strike a blow. He was always for peace, and he would have peace—he could not stand disturbances. Pard, he was a great loss to the town. It would please the boys if you could chip in something about that and do him justice. Here once, like when the Micks got to throwing stones through the Methodis' Sunday School windows, Buck Fanshaw, all of his own notion, shut up his saloon and took a couple of six-shooters and mounted guard over the Sunday School. Says he: 'No Irish need apply!' And they didn't. He was the bulliest man in the mountains, pard; he could run faster, jump higher, hit harder, and hold more tangle-foot whisky without spilling than any man in seventeen counties. Put that in, pard; it'll please the boys more than anything you could say. And you can say, pard, that he never shook his mother."

"Never shook his mother?"

"That's it—any of the boys will tell you so."

"Well, but why should he shake her?"

"That's what I say—but some people does so."

"Not people of any repute?"

"Well, some that average pretty so-so."

"In my opinion, a man that would offer personal violence to his mother ought to—"

"Cheese it, pard; you've banked your ball clean outside the string. What I was a drivin' at was that he never throwed off on his mother—don't you see? No, indeed. He gave her a house to live in, and town lots, and plenty of money; and he looked after her and took care of her all the time, and when she was down with the smallpox, I'm damned if he didn't set up nights and nuss her himself! Beg your pardon for saying it, but it hopped out too quick for yours truly. You've treated me like a gentleman, and I ain't the man to hurt your feelings intentional. I think you're white. I think you're a square man, pard. I like you, and I'll lick any man that don't. I'll lick him till he can't tell himself from a last year's corpse! Put it there!" [Another fraternal handshake—and exit.]

The obsequies were all that "the boys" could desire. Such a marvel of funeral pomp had never been seen in Virginia. The plumed hearse, the dirge-breathing brass bands, the closed marts of business, the flags drooping at half-mast, the long, plodding procession of uniformed secret societies and military battalions and fire companies, draped engines, carriages of officials, and citizens in vehicles and on foot, attracted multitudes of spectators to the sidewalks, roofs and windows; and, for years afterward, the degree of grandeur attained by any civic display in Virginia was determined by comparison with Buck Fanshaw's funeral.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

MONDAY EVENING, May 27, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113¾.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 89c buying; 90c selling.

The steamship John L. Stephens, which sailed from San Francisco on Sunday will probably arrive on Thursday evening.

The market for Domestic Produce is without substantial change. Wheat and flour continue inactive. Wool is arriving in quantities, quotable at 45@48c ℔ ℔. Eggs are again arriving more freely, and the price has declined to 22c per dozen. Butter is in excessive supply, and prices are still weaker.

The production of Wool in the United States has been largely increased during the past few years. In 1850 it was 52,516,000 ℔s; in 1860, it was only 60,511,000 ℔s. The consumption of Woolen goods during the war greatly stimulated production, and during 1866 the product was 116,000,000 ℔s. In 1861, it was 160,000,000 ℔s, and in 1866, it had reached 177,000,000 ℔s. In the next two years it was about 155,000,000 ℔s per annum, and last year 170,000,000, of which California contributed 25,000,000, taking the first rank among the States in point of production.

The national debt of Great Britain has been reduced $12,000,000 within three years, and the people of that great, rich and powerful empire are happy. The present administration of the government of the United States paid $12,3[illegible] of our national indebtedness during the single brief month of April.

The Savings Banks of the United States contain deposits of $1,000,000,000, mainly the surplus earnings of mechanics and laboring men. Of this amount, over $165,000,000 are deposited in the savings banks of Massachusetts, $100,000,000 in the rest of New England, and nearly $350,000,000 in New York.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.--1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair. To Prevent its Falling Out and Turning Grey.

A well preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age, at once bespeaks refinement, elegance, health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's Crowning Glory, while men are not insensible to the advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin, frizzly, harsh, untamed Hair, with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a barber and you feel and look like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do all the time. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Luxuriant Tresses, and a Clean Head, is noticeable and irresistible.

Ordinance No. 1167.

AN ORDINANCE [illegible]

Section 3. No person owning or occupying any building or premises, shall place, or cause to be placed, or permit or suffer upon the street or sidewalk in front of such building or premises, any sign or advertisement, or place any goods, wares or merchandise upon the sidewalk by way of show, advertisement or otherwise to extend more than two feet outside of the inner line of the sidewalk, except the same be placed at a height of not less than nine feet [illegible] of said sidewalk, or suspend or cause to be suspended [illegible] over the street beyond the line of the curb in front of said building or premises any sign, advertisement or flag except upon holidays, election days and days of public parade or display.

Section 4. No person shall place or cause to be placed on any crosswalk, sidewalk, or street, any article or thing whatever, which shall obstruct such street or sidewalk, for a longer period than four hours except as provided in section [illegible] of this ordinance; Provided, That this section shall not apply to merchandise while in the actual course of receipt or delivery and further provided that wood for fuel may be allowed to be piled and remain in the street in such manner as to cause the least obstruction to the travel not to exceed forty eight hours for each cord thereof and not to exceed ten days in the aggregate, with a permit from the Street Commissioner approved by the Committee on Streets and Public Property—which said permit shall specify the number of days not to exceed thirty. This section shall not be deemed to affect the deposit of building material under a permit as provided by ordinance No. 1040 entitled "An ordinance relating to the use of streets for building purposes and the removal of buildings."

Section 5. No person shall throw into or deposit upon any public street, highway or grounds or upon any private premises or elsewhere, except in such places as may be designated by the Street Commissioner, any glass, metal, broken ware, dirt, rubbish, garbage or filth, and no person shall carry upon any sidewalk, exposed so as to be offensive to pedestrians, any rubbish, garbage or filth.

Section 6. No person shall drive, wheel or draw upon any sidewalk any vehicle except hand carriages for children—and no person having the charge or control of any beast of burden, shall intentionally cause or permit the same to stand upon any street crossing or so near thereto as to obstruct the same.

Section 7. Any person owning or having control of any premises fronting on a public street, and below the grade thereof shall, within ten days after notice from the Street Commissioner, requiring him so to do at his own expense erect a suitable barricade upon the inner line of the sidewalk in front of such premises.

Section 8. Any person by whom or under whose immediate direction, or by whose immediate authority as principal or as agent or employee, any part of a public street may be made dangerous, shall erect and so long as the danger may continue, maintain around the portion of the street or highway so made dangerous, a good and sufficient barrier.

Section 9. A violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction before the Police Judge, the offender or offenders shall be punished by a fine of not less than five, nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the city jail not less than two nor more than twenty days for each and every offence.

Section 10. Ordinance No. 142, entitled "An ordinance to prevent and remove obstructions of streets and sidewalks," ordinances Nos. [illegible] and 921, amendatory thereto, ordinance No. [illegible] entitled "An ordinance in relation to awnings and awning posts," and ordinance No. 313 entitled "An ordinance to prevent and remove obstructions from the sidewalks," are hereby repealed.

Passed the Common Council May 22, 1872.

Ordinance No. 1168.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE REpairs to streets.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The owners or agents of any property fronting or abutting on any street, improved by direction of the Common Council or under a permit authorizing such improvement, shall, when notified by the Street Commissioner, at their own expense make or cause to be made such local repairs to such street, roadway, sidewalk or crosswalk as will place the same in as good condition as when accepted by the proper authorities, ordinary wear and tear excepted.

Section 2. Materials used and work done shall, as far as practicable, conform to the provision of the ordinance or ordinances relating to the improvement of such streets, or to the permits granted therefor, and upon the completion of the repairs, all surplus material shall be immediately removed, and the street cleaned up to the satisfaction of the Street Commissioner.

Section 3. A failure to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed a misdemeanor and upon conviction before the Police Judge, the offender or offenders shall be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars for each and every offence.

Ordinance No. 1169.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of West Park street lying between the south line of Stark street and the center line of Salmon street.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of West Park street lying between the south line of Stark street and the center line of Salmon street shall be completed in the manner hereinafter provided on or before the 15th day of July, 1872.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank, timbers, or other obstacles to a permanent improvement of sidewalks, crosswalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade excepted. If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent lots within three days from the service of notice by the Street Commissioner, they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading, and laying sidewalks and crosswalks and plank gutters where necessary.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 11 and 12 of Ordinance No. 793, entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets."

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals, receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Street Commissioner.

Passed the Common Council May 22, 1872.
W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.
